Module One

Digestion: This is the initial key to success. Too often failure to address digestion is the cause of protocol failure and patient losses.

Module Two

Endocrine Male/Female Hormonal Dysfunctions

Module Three

Module Four

Immune/Allergy

Module Five

Nutritional Handling

This course has been taught throughout the US and Europe. Learn how many of today’s leading practitioners have transformed their practice.

YOU ARE INVITED TO JOIN THIS CREATIVE PROGRAM: CCWFN Certification Program:

The CCWFN Certification Program is a 100-credit hour certification program designed around the Nutritional Exam format. It is designed to be taken as a distance learning program. This approach allows you to follow your own pace, at home, and within your own time frame. You can complete the program in one year, and have your answers at the tip of your fingers.

The course is designed as a distance learning program to be taken at your own pace at home. The program will be taken at your own pace, and within your own time frame. You can complete the program in one year, and have your answers at the tip of your fingers.

The course has been taught throughout the US and Europe. Learn how many of today’s leading practitioners have transformed their practice.

What sets you apart from the rest of the healthcare practitioners? Your knowledge and ability to understand the root cause of your patient’s health problems and guide them to healing is key.

Join the CCWFN Certification Program today! Save $650 to $950 dollars by enrolling in IFNH’s 100-hour certification program.

Why should you take the CCWFN Certification Program? If you are a healthcare practitioner looking to enhance your management skills, guide your patients to healing, and grow your practice, then this program is for you.

The CCWFN Certification Program offers a systematic approach to understanding the root cause of your patient’s health problems and guide them to healing. This program will teach you what it takes to be successful in a nutritional practice.

Explore the benefits of the CCWFN Certification Program:

- Access to patient support and education
- Discounts on selected catalog items
- Access to referrals of like-minded healthcare practitioners
- Support for both your practice and office staff
- Get up to 30 hours of outside credit for courses
- The staff and patient management tools
- The course is designed as a distance learning program
- The course will help you understand by giving you the tools and approach to enhance your management skills, guide your patients to healing, and grow your practice.

If you have any questions about the program, please feel free to ask. Call today at (858) 488-8932 or E-mail us at ifnh@ifnh.org.

San Diego, CA 92117
4198 Conner Ct
International Foundation for Nutrition and Health
Nonprofit.Org
Permit No 3968
Ask about our easy payment plan. Call today for more information.
CCWFN 100 HOUR CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

The CCWFN certification program is designed around the Nutritional Exam and an expanded version of the original Foundations of Nutritional Therapies (FNT) seminar series. The program is done in a home study format.

The certification focuses on those foundational issues and their root causes. The course puts a special emphasis on practice and patient management with the integration of diet and lifestyle.

The program incorporates parts of the Physical Exam that was taught in medical schools throughout the United States in the 1940s and 1950s. These quick and easy physical tests looked at function versus pathology. Although most of these tests could be run and interpreted with accuracy within a few minutes, their use was discontinued in favor of new technology that unfortunately has become more expensive and time-consuming every year.

The staff and patient management tools taught throughout the program will help your practice grow and prosper. The CCWFN Certification gives you a solid foundation, with a systematic approach using verifiable clinical tools to track your patient’s progress in real time.

The course lecture materials are in DVD and CD format so you can review the material for a more comprehensive learning experience. The weekly teleconferences offered in this program have been designed to help the practitioner have a more personalized mentoring environment.

BENEFITS OF THE CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Save between $650 to $950 on educational materials when enrolling in the certification program.

Get up to 30 hours of outside credit for courses that you are taking or have taken.

Support for both your practice and office staff in nutritional management.

Access to new practice management tools and support.

Mentoring for those difficult cases on hormonal dysfunction, Musculo-Skeletal problems, vitamin deficiencies, chronic pain issues and more.

Being part of a community of one of the fastest growing Nutritional Foundations dedicated to whole food nutrition and the healthcare practitioner.

Access to patient support and education materials.

Course materials in DVDs, CDs and published format are designed to take at your own pace, with the live weekly teleconferences are for mentoring.

Weekly teleconferences are heavily layered with practice and patient management insights allowing for your personal input.

Access to referrals of like-minded healthcare professionals.

Ask about our easy payment plan! For more information go to IFNH.org or call us at (858) 488-8932.

LOOK WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID

Jay Robbins, DC: Why should you take the CCWFN certification program? In 1994 or 96 I was encouraged to take a series of courses in nutrition offered by IFNH. The best part for me was the nutritional exam because I never considered myself a muscle tester. I would take a module on digestion or sugar handling, go back to my office and teach my partner what I learned, through that process I increased my confidence and saw positive changes in my patients and practice.

Holly Carling, LAc: When I took this series, I was expecting the usual. But this was different. This was unique, yet basic. It connected all the dots. It made so much more sense to me than anything else I had learned – feed the body. Give the body the proper nutrients needed to support function and healing and the body in its innate wisdom would do the rest. I learned to question WHY?

Jeremy Kaslow, MD: I was fortunate my father was one of those early medical doctors who believed in the therapeutic value of whole foods. When I found IFNH and its courses I never looked back. Working with function is about health and prevention not pathology and disease.

Martha Hall, LAc: The CCWFN program has increased my knowledge and understanding of the incredible part nutrition plays in our overall health and well being. It has subsequently increased my confidence and ability to accurately support and treat my patients needs. Applying this systematic approach and management information has increased patient compliance, creating positive results, boosting product sales. This has resulted in increased referrals from satisfied healthy patients. What more could you ask for?